During her time in the PSOE, she defined herself exclusively as a social democrat. In her 2000 manifesto for the post of Secretary-General at the 35th Federal Congress of the Socialist Party, she argued that the PSOE should be a clearly social democratic party representing and integrating a broad sociological spectrum. That spectrum would have gone "from the centre to the political left—that is, from liberalism with a greater emphasis on social conscience to classical social democracy". She also asserted that "egalitarian doctrines can only flourish in a free society, meaning they're incompatible with authoritarianism and systems that deny the free market". This was consistent with her evolution in claiming to belong to both social democracy and political liberalism when she was UPyD's leader and spokesperson. Consequently, Rosa Díez now self-defines as a social liberal—or an unorthodox social democrat—politician who endorses free-market economics, civil liberties, and the welfare state, albeit still maintaining an essentially... cebfd68a2d
