Wikipedia:Administrators' noticeboard/3RRArchive245 seen here, [15] but it seems to me that it is Earl that is provoking this, with his repeated talk-page posturing and refusal to take disagreements regarding == User:Earl King Jr. reported by User:Somedifferentstuff (Result: Stale) == 370d50f4fa

In the past hour or so, I've had two edits of mine blindly reverted by 166.205.55.32 (talk · contribs · deleted contribs · filter log · WHOIS · RDNS · RBLs · http · block user · block log) (see [4] and [5]). The IP made very few edits prior, and I remembered that this blind reverting was the MO of Wiki-star a.k.a. Dragonron from earlier this year. In January, Mark Arsten blocked 166.205.48.0/20, a range previously abused by Wiki-star in his childish dispute with me (documented here), and because Mark is on WikiBreak, I would like to request that someone put the kibosh on this debacle before it goes on further...again. Also, it might be pertinent to do a checkuser to see if he's going to be transparently "hiding" again.—Ryūlong (龍) 22:23, 20 May 2014 (UTC) 370d50f4fa WOI-TV was Iowa's second television station and the first TV station owned by an educational institution when it was built by Iowa State College, now Iowa State University (ISU); it signed on February 21, 1950, on channel 4. It operated from studios on the campus in Ames. The foresight of president Charles E. Friley to expand Iowa State's long-running WOI radio station into television led to a very early application and allowed the college to beat a years-long freeze on new TV stations. While WOI-TV was intended as an educational service and aired college courses, agricultural extension programs, and the long-running children's show The Magic Window, the freeze left it the only TV station in central Iowa, and the Iowa Board of Regents allowed it to accept national network programming... 370d50f4fa By the beginning of the North Vietnamese Tet Offensive on 30 January 1968, which coincided with the Vietnamese Tết Lunar New Year, large conventional American forces had been committed to combat operations on Vietnamese soil for almost three years. Highway 1, passing through the city of Huế, was an important supply line for Army of the Republic of Vietnam (ARVN) and United States forces from the coastal city of Da Nang to the Vietnamese

Demilitarized Zone (DMZ), the de facto border between North and South Vietnam only 50 kilometers (31 mi) to the north of Huế. The highway also provided access to... 370d50f4fa One more. --NeilN... 370d50f4fa Note: Chesdovi has also raised this at DRV, see Wikipedia:Deletion review#Category:16th-century Palestinian rabbis, and on request there I have temp-undeleted the category so that the RFC on its talk page can be read. This should be discussed either there or here but not both. JohnCD (talk) 22:16, 22 June 2011 (UTC) 370d50f4fa This looks like a content dispute to me, at least at first glance. Perhaps you might find helpful to first discuss these edits on the talk page? -- Deville (Talk) 02:56, 18 July 2009 (UTC) 370d50f4fa

WOI-DT WOI-DT and KCWI-TV share studios on Westown Parkway in West Des Moines; WOI-DT's transmitter is located in Alleman, Iowa. education adopted a "semi-commercial" posture to the operation of WOI-TV, initially as a stopgap. It allowed the station to take in revenue from national advertising WOI-DT (channel 5) is a television station licensed to Ames, Iowa, United States, serving the Des Moines area as an affiliate of ABC. It is owned by the Tegna subsidiary of Nexstar Media Group alongside CW station KCWI-TV (channel 23); Nexstar also owns NBC affiliate WHO-DT (channel 13) 370d50f4fa

Wikipedia:Administrators' noticeboard/IncidentArchive707 appears to be annoying a lot of people with "information has a right to be free" posturing at various Wikileaks-related pages, and having an edit history (spike-one == Awaiting assistance == 370d50f4fa

Wikipedia:Requests for adminship/TheSandDoctor defensive posture but instead seem to be a student willing to learn. Please do not modify it. I am with those who are not particularly impressed with the answer to

Please take a look at this, this and this. Sounds like there are some religious people who don't want to hear anything against their beliefs. The facts which I put on that article are from one of the most reliable books of Muslims (Nahj al-Balagha)) which can not be denied specially by Muslims! If someone has to delete the facts which have come from that book then the whole article must be deleted. I am sure if I add those contents again, there are LOTS of muslims who rush into the article and delete them immediately. Since this encyclopedia is a NON-BIASED source and IT SHOULD CONTAIN ALL RELIABLE MATERIAL whether positive or negative to someone, I demand that admins protect that page from vandalism and punish the vandals.--Breathing Dead (talk) 02:40, 18 July 2009 (UTC) 370d50f4fa Awaiting assistance with an above discussion: Debresser nominates Palestinian rabbis for category for deletion.
