19th century It was the 9th century of the 2nd millennium. that lasted until the first half of the 20th century. Religious missionaries were sent from the Americas and Europe to Asia, Africa and the Middle East. Slavery was abolished in much of Europe and the Americas. The Catholic Church, in response to the growing influence and power of modernism, secularism and materialism, formed the First Vatican Council in the late 19th century to deal with such problems and confirm certain Catholic doctrines as dogma. The First Industrial Revolution, though it began in the late 18th century, expanded beyond its British homeland for the first time during the 19th century, particularly remaking the economies and societies of the Low Countries, France, the Rhineland, Northern Italy, and the Northeastern United States. A few decades later, the Second Industrial Revolution led to ever more massive urbanization and much higher levels of productivity, profit, and prosperity, a pattern that continued into the 20th century. It was characterized by vast social upheaval.
