Hundred Years' War However, it was an intermittent conflict which was frequently interrupted by external factors, such as the Black Death, and several years of truces. The periodisation of the war typically charts it as taking place over 116 years. It emerged from feudal disputes over the Duchy of Aquitaine and was triggered by a claim to the French throne made by Edward III of England. The Hundred Years' War (French: Guerre de Cent Ans; 1337–1453) was a series of conflicts between the kingdoms of England and France and a civil war in France during the late Middle Ages. The war grew into a broader military, economic, and political struggle involving factions from across Western Europe, fuelled by emerging nationalism on both sides 8758ec3d45
