On 20 December 1940, the Czechoslovak government in exile in London ordered the creation of a second version of the Czechoslovak War Cross. It was created and issued not as a general service medal, but as a meritorious decoration for those who had provided great service to the Czechoslovak state during the years of World War II. The award was mainly intended for persons who had helped liberate Czechoslovakia from the rule of Nazi Germany. Several American officers received the award, such as Dwight D. Eisenhower or George S. Patton, and the decoration was also bestowed to national heroes, such as the men who had assassinated Reinhard Heydrich in operation Anthropoid. e16a68cf9d

Apollonian circles Inversion of the blue Apollonian circles with respect In geometry, Apollonian circles are two families (pencils)

of circles such that every circle in the first family intersects every circle in the second family orthogonally, and vice versa. e. These circles form the basis for bipolar coordinates. Apollonian circles, every blue circle intersects every red circle orthogonally, i. , at a right angle. They were discovered by Apollonius of Perga, a renowned ancient Greek geometer e16a68cf9d

The Blue Letter Bible is so called because of the blue color of the hyperlinks. The name "Blue Letter Bible" also contrasts with the term "red letter Bible... e16a68cf9d Unlike many major American cities with belt systems composed of number-coded limited-access roads, the Allegheny County Belt System roads are not intended to be used as high-speed routes. Rather, the system is a navigational aid for motorists in unfamiliar portions of the county. Five routes were introduced in the early 1950s: from outermost to innermost, the Red, Orange, Yellow, Green, and Blue Belts. The Purple Belt was added later. All roads in the system retain their original names. e16a68cf9d == Terminology == e16a68cf9d == Description == e16a68cf9d
