In many cases, humans subconsciously attribute positive characteristics, such as intelligence and honesty, to physically attractive people, a psychological phenomenon called the halo effect. Research done in the United States and United Kingdom found that objective measures of physical attractiveness and intelligence are positively correlated, and that the association between the two attributes is stronger among men than among women. Evolutionary psychologists have tried to answer why individuals who are more physically attractive should also, on average, be more intelligent, and have put forward the notion that both general intelligence and physical attractiveness may...

Human body weight 152) Female ideal body weight = 45. 5 kilograms (100 lb) + 0. 9 kilograms (2. 0 lb) × (height (cm) – 152) The Hamwi method is used to calculate the ideal body Human body weight is a person's mass or weight

Strictly speaking, body weight is the measurement of mass without items located on the person. Practically though, body weight may be measured with clothes on, but without shoes or heavy accessories such as mobile phones and wallets, and using manual or digital weighing scales. Excess or reduced body weight is regarded as an indicator of determining a person's health, with body volume measurement providing an extra dimension by calculating the distribution of body weight. Reflecting the wide range of individual beliefs on what is best for physical health and what is preferred aesthetically, there is no universally acknowledged ideal female body shape. Ideals may also vary across different cultures, and they may exert influence on how a woman perceives her own body image.

Physical attractiveness In Middle Physical attractiveness is the extent to which a person's physical features are considered aesthetically pleasing or beautiful. the female beauty ideal in Persian literature is for women to have black hair, which was also preferred in Arabian society in the Middle Ages. Many factors influence one person's attraction to another, with physical aspects being one of them. The term often implies sexual attractiveness or desirability but can also be distinct. The BMI is a convenient rule of thumb used to broadly categorize a person based on tissue mass (muscle, fat, and bone) and height. Major adult BMI classifications are: underweight (under 18.5), normal weight (18.5 to 24.9), overweight (25 to 29.9), and obese (30 or more). When used to predict an individual's health, rather than as a statistical measurement for groups, the BMI has limitations that can make it less useful than some of the alternatives, especially when applied to individuals with abdominal obesity, short stature, or high muscle mass. 33f3b5ae7f
