Thread (textiles) Ancient Egyptians were known for creating thread using plant fibers, wool and hair. There are also metal threads (sometimes used in decorative textiles), which can be made of fine wire. A denier weight specification states how many grams 9,000 A thread is a long strand of material, often composed of several filaments or fibres, used for joining, creating or decorating textiles. though this is not a formal requirement in the US standard (which is therefore less informative). Today, thread can also be made of many different materials including but not limited to cotton, wool, flax, nylon, silk, polyester etc

All smoked sausages are cured. The reason is the threat of botulism. The bacterium responsible, Clostridium botulinum, is ubiquitous in the environment, grows in the anaerobic conditions created in the interior of the sausage, and thrives in the 4 °C (39 °F) to 60 °C (140 °F) temperature range common in the smoke house and subsequent ambient storage. Thus, for safety reasons, sausages are cured before smoking.... As well as being used as an anti-tank gun on its own towed carriage, the 17-pdr was also installed on a number of tanks. In particular, it was used to "up-gun" some foreign-built vehicles in British service, resulting in the Sherman Firefly – which gave British tank units the ability to hold their own against their German counterparts. In the anti-tank role, the 17-pdr was replaced, from the late 1940s, by the 120 mm BAT recoilless rifle. As a tank gun, it was succeeded by the 84 mm 20 pounder. == History ==

The practice experienced a revival in the 1970s, and records have since routinely been broken. Giant pumpkins are grown more for their novelty than their utility, as large pumpkins are not particularly tasty—although they have been turned into boats and used for pumpkin chucking. The practice of growing giant pumpkins dates to the 1800s, and world records were set beginning at the 1893 Chicago World's Fair. As of 2025, the largest weighed 2,819. Some 10,000 growers a year attempt giant pumpkins. Growing them is mostly a hobby, but record breaking pumpkins are valuable for their seeds and the prize money they can win. 3 lb (1,278

The 2019 Games operated under a new set of qualification rules this year, allowing athletes to qualify for the Games via three different methods: the Open, the Sanctionals and invitations, replacing the Regionals of previous seasons. It was also the first year to allow a team to be composed of members who did not share a gym affiliation, thereby removing the Affiliate Cup. This year the Games was not broadcast on ESPN or CBS, but rather streamed online by various partners using an open-source broadcast. == Beer keg == Materials ==

Introduced for the 1984 Summer Olympics, the division is the amateur equivalent of the heavyweight division in professional boxing. The super heavyweight division was introduced because the general increase in the weight of top heavyweights throughout the 20th century meant that the heavyweight division became excessively broad, with the smaller men having little chance of competing effectively. Therefore, the bigger men were split off into the new super heavyweight division. Professional boxing also made this split, but instead of renaming the unlimited division, it introduced the cruiserweight division for the smaller heavyweights, and continued to call the unlimited division heavyweight. In the International Kickboxing Federation (IKF), the Super Heavyweight class (pro and amateur) is for kickboxers weighing 106.8 kilograms (235 lb) and above. 6b1f4b5113 == Boxing == 6b1f4b5113 Görner was born in Hänichen, Saxony, Germany.
