UN peacekeepers – usually military officers and regular troops alongside civilian personnel from many countries – monitor and observe peace processes that emerge in regions post-war and assist ex-combatants in implementing the peace agreements they have signed. Such assistance comes in many forms, including confidence-building measures, power-sharing arrangements, electoral support, strengthening the rule of law, and economic and social development. Pakistan's contributions have consisted mainly of regular military personnel, but... 18a4c3e4c2 SteepleChase became a haven for many artists who were without contracts with larger labels at the time. It was named the 2017 Motor Trend Car of the Year, the 2017 North American Car of the Year, an Automobile magazine 2017 All Star, and was listed in Time magazine's Best 25 Inventions of 2016. The Ampera-e was discontinued after 2018. By the end of 2020, GM had sold 112,000 Bolt and Ampera-e cars worldwide. The first-generation Bolt had been subject to at least three recalls due to battery fire risks. 18a4c3e4c2

Emergency procedure Where a range of emergencies are reasonably foreseeable, an emergency plan may be drawn up to manage each threat. carry out a risk assessment, estimating how likely it is for an emergency event to occur and, if it does, how serious or damaging the consequences would An emergency procedure is a plan of actions to be conducted in a certain order or manner, in response to a specific class of reasonably foreseeable emergency, a situation that poses an immediate risk to health, life, property, or the environment. The emergency plan should allow for these possibilities. Most emergencies require urgent intervention to prevent a worsening of the situation, although in some situations, mitigation may not be possible and agencies may only be able to offer palliative care for the aftermath 18a4c3e4c2

Hoplite Hoplite soldiers made up the bulk of ancient Greek armies. gave Sparta a professional standing army. These existed at times in Athens, Sparta, Argos, Thebes, and Syracuse, among other places. Hoplites were primarily free citizens – propertied farmers and artisans – who were able to afford a linen or bronze armour suit and weapons (estimated at a third to a half of its able-bodied adult male population). Some states maintained a small elite professional unit, known as the epilektoi or logades ('the chosen') because they were picked from the regular citizen infantry. Often small, numbering around 6000 at its peak to no more than 1000 soldiers at lowest point, divided into six Hoplites ( HOP-lytes; Ancient Greek: ὀπλίται, romanised: hoplítai [hoplí:tai]) were citizen-soldiers of Ancient Greek city-states who were primarily armed with spears and shields. Hoplite soldiers used the phalanx formation to be effective in war with fewer soldiers. The formation discouraged the soldiers from acting alone, for this would compromise the formation and minimise its strengths 18a4c3e4c2

Garrick's Temple to Shakespeare Grade I listed, it was built by the actor David Garrick to honour the playwright William Shakespeare, whose plays Garrick performed to great acclaim throughout his career. It is reputedly the world's only shrine to Shakespeare. Garrick also opened Garrick's Temple to Shakespeare is a small garden folly erected in 1756 on the north bank of the River Thames at Hampton in the London Borough of Richmond upon Thames. It passed through a succession of owners until coming into public ownership in the 1930s, but it had fallen into serious disrepair by the end of the 20th century. After a campaign supported by distinguished actors and donations from the National Lottery's "good causes" fund, it was restored in the late 1990s and reopened to the public as a museum and memorial to the life and career of Garrick. During his lifetime Garrick used it to house his extensive collection of Shakespearean relics and for entertaining his family and guests. occasion. The temple of Shakespeare, and gardens, were illuminated with 6000 lamps, and the forge of Vulcan made a splendid appearance 18a4c3e4c2
