MAPS raised $140 million to fund the development of MDMA for PTSD. However, fundraising ultimately fell short, forcing a change of strategy. MAPS PBC was rebranded to Lykos Therapeutics, which raised a further $100 million. Rick Doblin, the founder and former chief executive of MAPS, has said he wished that MDMA for PTSD could have been developed purely with philanthropic funding, but that this goal had failed. MAPS had also originally followed an "anti-patent" strategy and not patent MDMA. In December 2022 however, MAPS PBC filed patents for MDMA at specific particle sizes, and these patents were published in June 2024. In January 2025, the patents were rejected by... His father Noel also represented Dublin in football. McCaffrey attended Belvedere College private school and studied medicine at University College Dublin (UCD) and graduated in 2018 with a Bachelor of Medicine, Bachelor of Surgery & Bachelor in the Art of Obstetrics. His classmates included Mark English, considered by Jerry Kiernan to be the country's "greatest talent" ever in middle-distance running. English issued a challenge to McCaffrey, himself considered football's fastest player, to take him on over 100 metres. Faehrmann was born in Darlinghurst, New South Wales, and spent her childhood in a small country town west of Brisbane. Her adoptive parents ran the local chemist, and she attended a Toowoomba boarding high school. == Background == The group's work has been both praised and criticized. They have become increasingly controversial over time due to claims against them of false accusations, aggressive tactics, and politically motivated campaigning against approval of MDMA-assisted psychotherapy. These claims have also been denied and disputed by the group and certain other authors. The group is said to have been excluded from the mainstream psychedelic community and banned from conferences. In July 2025, Susie Sarlo disclosed that she donated US$185,000 to Psymposia in 2024 through the Sarlo Foundation. She holds negative views about MDMA and its developer the Multidisciplinary Association for Psychedelic Studies (MAPS) because she claims a MAPS board member abused and exploited her father, George Sarlo. == Early and personal life ==

Ariadne (drug) respond to LSD and MDMA. Ariadne is taken orally. It is a close analogue of the psychedelic drugs 2C-D and DOM, with 2C-D having no substitution at the α carbon, DOM having an α -methyl group, and Ariadne having an α -ethyl group. Ariadne's capacity to fully substitute for MDMA is not shared with DOM and is unusual among psychedelics, but is shared with α -ethyltryptamine Ariadne, also known chemically as 4C-D or 4C-DOM, by its developmental code name BL-3912, and by its former tentative brand name Dimoxamine, is a non-hallucinogenic psychoactive drug of the phenethylamine, phenylisobutylamine (α -ethylphenethylamine), and 4C families

She attended Griffith University in Queensland, where she worked to establish a Women's Collective on campus, and was active in pro-choice campaigns at the time. She graduated with a Bachelor of Arts from La Trobe University. The drug is a serotonin 5-HT₂ receptor partial agonist, including of the serotonin 5-HT_{2A} receptor, similarly to psychedelics. However, Ariadne is not hallucinogenic in humans, but is still psychoactive, producing antidepressant and mild stimulant effects such as feelings of well-being and mental alertness. The drug shows dopaminergic actions in animals, such as increased motivation and reversal of parkinsonism, which may be mediated by serotonin 5-HT_{2A} receptor activation-induced dopamine release in the brain. It is thought that the non-psychedelic nature of Ariadne with retained psychoactive effects is due to reduced but still high efficacy at the serotonin 5-HT_{2A} receptor relative to psychedelics.
