== Largest cities == 46badf854c == See also == 46badf854c Please note that constraints exist in this list as the WHO says these data are not comparable between countries. Data in this list are self-measured and self-reported so some places in Africa and South America which lack air pollution reporting tools are not properly reflected in this list. On the other hand, countries featured in this list with many cities may only mean that they have large and wide air pollution monitoring networks, rather than an indicator of heavy pollution. 46badf854c == Overall == 46badf854c New York City is home to by far the highest Chinese-American population of any city proper, with an estimated 573,388 Chinese-Americans in New York City. In the post-1965 era, first- and second-generation immigrants include those from Mainland China, Hong Kong, Macau, and Taiwan. Also included in the Chinese-American population enumeration are ethnic Chinese from Malaysia and Vietnam who might identify themselves as Chinese, thus skewing the census reporting. 46badf854c The criteria of a global city vary depending on the source. Common features include a high degree of urban development, a large population, the presence of major multinational companies, a significant and globalized financial sector, a well-developed and internationally linked transportation infrastructure, local or national economic dominance, high quality educational and research institutions, and a globally influential output of ideas, innovations, or cultural products. Global city rankings are numerous. New York City, London, Tokyo, and Paris are the most commonly mentioned. 46badf854c

List of largest cities A complicating factor is that many large cities The United Nations uses three definitions for what constitutes a city, as not all cities in all jurisdictions are classified using the same criteria. Cities may be defined as the cities proper, their metropolitan regions, or the extent of their urban area. A complicating factor is that many large cities in the world have not only homeless or the unhoused, but also vast slum communities. Cities may be defined as the cities proper, their metropolitan regions, or the extent of their urban area. This leads to official census data being less accurate in representing the actual number of residents in a given area 46badf854c
