== Overview == The plan for the shared prosperity vision had been addressed and officially launched on 5 October 2019 by Prime Minister Mahathir Mohamad following the unsolved large economic gap among the Bumiputera with the failure of fair development and distribution towards the country's demographics due to widespread corruption practices and abuse of power among Bumiputera politicians and state servants which subsequently hindered many past visions for the country's development. The blueprint also created to upskill Bumiputera Malaysians in various sectors of the country with the country's Prime Minister ensuring that any development taken under the blueprint in both Sabah and Sarawak... == Limitations ==

Golden mean (philosophy) It appeared in Greek at least as early as the Delphic maxim "nothing in excess", which was discussed in Plato's Philebus. The middle way form of government for Aristotle was a blend between monarchy, democracy and aristocracy. It appeared in Greek at The golden mean or golden middle way is the desirable middle between two extremes, one of excess and the other of deficiency. The golden mean or golden middle way is the desirable middle between two extremes, one of excess and the other of deficiency. Aristotle analyzed the golden mean in the Nicomachean Ethics Book II: That virtues of character can be described as means. For example, in the Aristotelian view, courage is a virtue, but if taken to excess would manifest as recklessness, and, in deficiency, cowardice. It was subsequently emphasized in Aristotelian virtue ethics

The Malaysia Madani concept was first published in a book and launched on 2 October 2022 in the Dorsett Grand Hotel in Subang, a month before the 2022 Malaysia general election. After Anwar's appointment as the Prime Minister, the Malaysia Madani concept was introduced as a national policy on 19 January 2023 in Putrajaya. The term "abundant life" comes from the Bible verse John 10:10b, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." "Abundant life" refers to life in its abounding fullness of joy and strength for spirit, soul and body. "Abundant life" signifies a contrast to feelings of lack, emptiness, and dissatisfaction, and such feelings may motivate a person to seek for the meaning of life and a change in their life.
