Catalan phonology Recasens Vives 1996, pp. 172–173. "Erra final sensible". Carbonell Costa & Llisterra Boix The Catalan phonology has a certain degree of dialectal variation. Although there are two standard varieties, one based on Central Eastern dialect and another one based on South-Western or Valencian, this article deals with features of all or most dialects, as well as regional pronunciation differences. Examples: radar, funicular (but not in televisor and ascensor). ésAdir 74f05462d0

The AfD is being closed many years later, because it was never properly closed back then, because it was never visible, because it was never transcluded on any of the daily logpages. Technically, it has still been open this whole time. 74f05462d0 Nobody else could ever be admitted here, because this door was made only for you. I am now going to shut it. Additional Comment There is a huge war in CN going on right now. One of the (many) sides of it is Vox Populi (one of the alliances in the article) accusing the New Pacific Order (also mentioned) of being a completely tyrannical government. The fact that this article was created now leads me to believe that it is a propaganda piece, merely an other attempt to use Wikipedia for soapboxing. Catalan is characterized by final-obstruent devoicing, lenition and (in some dialects) fortition of plosives, voicing assimilation, and gemination (consonant lengthening); a set of 7 to 8 phonemic vowels (plus 2 rare rounded vowels, found mainly in French loanwords and/or Northern Catalan), vowel assimilations (including vowel harmony), many phonetic diphthongs, and vowel reduction, whose precise details differ between dialects. 74f05462d0 Delete I have found no reliable sources that suggest this term is established outside of NationStates, and CyberNations. As a result, I have concluded it is a neologism, and I believe that this article should be deleted as a result. JEdgarFreeman (talk) 23:58, 18 August 2008 (UTC)reply 74f05462d0 == Consonants == 74f05462d0 At the article for Riccardo Patrese, there is an edit war taking place over a single source - [4] - that User:Epeefleche claims is RS, and sufficient to include the statement that Patrese is Jewish. User:Spatres disagrees with this and is now claiming to be Patrese's son (possible WP:COI? I'm not sure). My take on the matter is that the source is only a list-based collection of tidbits rather than comprehensive prose; it only name-drops Patrese once amongst a sea of other sportspeople; elaborates no further as to him being Jewish; and no other sources are readily available to support the book's claim—I'm quite sure the book does not cite its own sources. User:Epeefleche claims that "The RS book does not need to supply any more that it supplies, and one RS book is sufficient". Surely this cannot be the case? If so, then that is ludicrous. WP:BLP states that editors must "Be very firm about the use of high-quality sources." I contend that the book is not RS by itself, and further refs are needed to corroborate the claims that Patrese is Jewish.
