Die casting aluminium, brass, magnesium, and zinc castings are estimated at 70 pounds (32 kg), 10 lb (4. By late-2019 Die casting is a metal casting process that is characterized by forcing molten metal under high pressure into a mold cavity. The mold cavity is created using two hardened tool steel dies which have been machined into shape and work similarly to an injection mold during the process. Depending on the type of metal being cast, a hot- or cold-chamber machine is used. 5 kg), 44 lb (20 kg), and 75 lb (34 kg), respectively. Most die castings are made from non-ferrous metals, specifically zinc, copper, aluminium, magnesium, lead, pewter, and tin-based alloys 163659b890

The casting equipment and the metal dies represent large capital costs and this tends to limit the process to high-volume production. Manufacture of parts using die casting is relatively simple, involving only four main steps, which keeps the incremental cost per item low. It is especially suited for a large quantity of small- to medium-sized castings, which is why die casting produces more castings than any other casting process. Die castings are characterized by a very good surface finish (by casting standards) and dimensional consistency. 163659b890
