Born Jane Ives on June 7, 1971, Eleven is the daughter of Teresa "Terry" Ives. Terry was one of the test subjects in MKUltra, a real-life Central Intelligence Agency (CIA)-sanctioned program where the government conducted mind control experiments on real people. According to the series, Terry joined the program as a college student in 1969 under the supervision of Dr. Martin Brenner. Terry was subjected to experiments, including drug testing, psychedelic drugs, and being submerged in sensory deprivation tanks. She did not know she was pregnant at the time with her and her boyfriend, Andrew Rich's, baby while these experiments were taking place. Andrew's identity is only revealed in Suspicious Minds. Andrew died fighting in the Vietnam War, before he ever learned he was going to...
== Background ==
Miracles follows Paul Callan, an investigator of modern miracles for the Catholic Church who questions his faith after repeatedly finding mundane explanations for various supposed supernatural phenomena. After he witnesses a true, supernatural miracle that saves his life, only for his findings to be dismissed on a lack of evidence, Paul leaves the Church behind and is approached by Alva Keel to join his organization Sodalitas Quaerito (Latin for "Brotherhood in search of truth"), investigating and cataloging "unexplainable" supernatural phenomena. Along with former police officer Evelyn Santos, Paul and Alva attempt to battle the impending "darkness" before it's too late.

Diagnosis can be difficult, but is generally characterized by the triad of findings: retinal hemorrhage, encephalopathy, and subdural hematoma. A CT scan of the head is typically recommended if a concern is present. If there are concerning findings on the CT scan, a full work-up for child abuse often occurs, including an eye exam and skeletal survey. Retinal hemorrhage is highly associated with AHT, occurring in 78–85% of cases of AHT versus 5% of cases of non-abusive head trauma, although such findings rely on contested methodology. A 2023 review concluded "research has shown the triad is not sufficient to infer shaking or abuse and the shaking hypothesis does not meet the standards of evidence-based medicine", and argued the symptoms may arise from naturally occurring retinal haemorrhage... 2b3ec2bac1 Self-induced (or self-managed) abortion is often attempted during the beginning of pregnancy (the first eight weeks from the last menstrual period). In recent years, significant reductions in maternal death and injury resulting from self-induced abortions have been attributed to the increasing availability of misoprostol (known commercially as "Cytotec"). This medication is a synthetic prostaglandin E1 that is inexpensive, widely available, and has multiple uses, including the treatment of post-partum hemorrhage, stomach ulcers, cervical preparation and induction of labor. The World Health Organization (WHO) has endorsed two regimens for abortion... 2b3ec2bac1
